

MODEL MOM

SOUTH African model Nicola Breytenbach is expecting her first child in July.

The 31-year-old former face of Revlon, who lives in New York with her husband, Ben Steiner, has a list of four names for her daughter, but plans to wait until she makes her appearance before making a final decision.

The cover girl said she had been "craving sugar like mad", but had been doing lots of pre-natal yoga and swimming.

To combat stretch marks, Breytenbach's using wheat germ, rosehip and borage oils twice daily and drinking a special "pregnancy tea" with ginger to combat nausea.

Little Breytenbach-Steiner will make her first visit to South Africa at the end of the year.
